The acreage figures came from NPS websites; that seemed faster than asking, but will do so for confirmation

Largest park system unit is the Glen Canyon National Recreation area, 1.25 million acres mostly in Utah, small portion (by map - could not find acreage split anywhere online) in AZ. Largest actual National Park is Canyonlands, 337,598 acres.

Information on Glen Canyon, from Wikipedia, far more useful than anything on NPS sites:

The recreation area borders Capitol Reef National Park and Canyonlands National Park on the north, Grand Staircase-Escalante National Monument on the west, Vermilion Cliffs National Monument and the northeasternmost reaches of Grand Canyon National Park on the southwest, and the Navajo Indian Reservation on the southeast.

The Glen Canyon NRA was established in 1972 "to provide for public use and enjoyment and to preserve the area's scientific, historic, and scenic features."

The stated purpose of Glen Canyon NRA is for recreation as well as preservation. As such, the area has been developed for access to Lake Powell via 5 marinas, 4 camping grounds, two small airports, and houseboat rental concessions.
